In Christian charity, please offer a prayer for her husband David and their children Kaitlyn, Ryan, Megan, and Kyle that their hearts will be consoled in their grief by the Lord Himself.

Eternal rest grant unto Renee, O Lord, and let Your perpetual light shine upon her. May the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.

LIVE THE LITURGY

INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

Relationships are hard to clarify. Determining whether people in our lives are simply acquaintances and associates or a deeper level of friend is a journey that takes time. Identifying and celebrating those people who really care about us is a lifelong adventure that involves both moments of intense elation and heartache. Some relationships are more easily definable than others. Two people who are in love must decide whether the love they share has the freedom and depth necessary for lifelong commitments. Other relationships may look like friendship but may harbor grave dysfunction and toxicity. Discernment is needed on all fronts. Our relationship with God also needs definition and discernment. God has taken creation as His spouse and human beings as His Children. God delights in us and all that He has made. The wedding feast at Cana demonstrates God's investment in all of this, especially our happiness. Life is a time for celebration and great rejoicing!

What is Ordinary Time?

Why is it a Mortal Sin if a Catholic Doesn't Participate in Sunday Mass?

Taken from the Saint Andrew Bible Missal

Wasted time is not a prized commodity in American Society. We are a people ruled by the clock. Time is money because time is to be filled with purposeful controlled activity which is productive of things which can be sold. We are convinced that we must be in control of time. The last thing the productive American would want to do is waste time playing around with realities that do not produce a saleable commodity.

But the Creator of heaven and earth is described by the scriptures as the original and the best of players. Creative activity is playful, and creative people do not feel that what they do is a job. Creative people also have a sense that their creativity and all that they fashion in the creative spirit are gifts they have received. The Christians can speak of this and the contemplative vision which sees all reality as gift or grace. Our thankful response we call worship or eucharist.

We cannot speak of Ordinary Time without speaking of Sunday. The every seven-day celebration of the Lord's Day is the basic structure upon which the Church Year is built. The great liturgical seasons of Advent-Christmas and Lent-Easter are more expansive celebrations of particular aspects of the one paschal mystery which we celebrate every Lord's Day. These special seasons focus our attention upon critical dimensions of one mystery, a mystery so overwhelming that we are compelled to separate out its various elements for particular attention. These seasons in no way, minimize the critical importance of the Sunday celebration throughout the rest of the year. Ordinary Time is not very ordinary at all. Ordinary Time, the celebration of Sunday, is the identifying mark of the Christian community which comes together, remembering that on this day of the week, the Lord of Life was raised up and creation came, at last, to completion. Sunday is a day of play, and worship is a sacrament of redeemed time. How we live Sunday proclaims to the world what we believe about redeemed time now and forever.

What happens in our churches every Sunday, is the fruit of our week. What happens is the fruit of the week past is the beginning of the week to come. Sunday, like all sacraments, is simultaneously a point of arrival and departure for Christians on their way to the fullness of the kingdom. This is not ordinary at all! This is the fabric of Christian living!

“The circumstances of our conception don’t define the condition of our worth. I am literally the 1 percent that is used 100 percent of the time to justify abortion. I was conceived in rape, but I was adopted in love.”

~ Ryan Bomberg is co-founder of The Radiance Foundation which spreads the word that ‘every human life has God-given purpose’. His birth mother experienced the horror and violence of rape, and he is the product of that rape. ~

A robber enters a bank, he pulls out a gun and shouts, "Everybody on the ground! This is a robbery!" Immediately, everyone in the bank drops down, with their hands on their heads, except for one man reading a newspaper.

The man lowers his newspaper and begins to stare at the robber with an amused look on his face. It makes the robber angry, so he walks toward the man and puts the gun to his face. He asks, "What's so funny? You want to get shot?"

The man's amused look turns into a smile as he answers back, "You are joking, right?"

Bursting with anger, the robber places the gun one inch away from the man's face and says, "Say that again. I dare you." The man, who was previously completely relaxed, is now getting a bit worried. He lowers his newspaper further and says, "No, really. You are not serious, are you?"

The robber sticks the gun into the man's forehead and threatens with a more serious tone: "One more word and I swear I'm pulling the trigger!"

The man, no longer showing the slightest hint of amusement, says, "Look, there is a first time for everything, but this is unbelievable. Do you really have any idea of what you are doing?"

"That's it," the robber snaps. "I have a gun, you're unarmed, everybody else is scared to death and there are zero guards in here! Don't you understand the situation?"

IT TAKES ALL KINDS

"If every flower wanted to be a rose," wrote St. Therese of Lisieux, "spring would lose its loveliness."

Who is God asking you to be today? There is an obvious answer that springs to mind right out of the gate. God wants me to be a good person (a good father, a good husband) today, God wants me to be a saint.

But this answer fails to get to the heart of the question. We are all striving today to serve the same Spirit, but we are given different gifts to do so. The one who has the gift of knowledge may fail if today he decides he wants to be a healer. The one who has the gift of "varieties of tongues" might falter in the expression of wisdom.

Think about the wedding at Cana and the players in the scene: the servers, the guests, the bride and groom. They all have a unique role to play, and though it is to the servers that Mary gives the instruction. "Do whatever he tells you," her words apply to all.

Today, are we called to be the servers – do we wait on God's instruction and carry it out, no matter how foolish or impossible it may seem to our human ears? Are we asked to be the disciples, to bear witness to a miracle and to give our testimony? Are we called to imitate the Blessed Mother herself and give encouragement to follow God's word?

Let us examine our gifts and listen in the silence of our hearts to the direction of the Spirit. Then and only then, let us do whatever He tells us.

~ Tracy Earl Welliver, MTS ~
