Janada Marcus with Pope Francis at the general audience on March 8, 2023. / Credit: Vatican Media

Pope Francis met Wednesday with two young Nigerian girls who suffered horrendous violence at the hands of the Boko Haram terrorist group. Sixteen-year-old Maryamu Joseph, who escaped from the Boko Haram in July after being held against her will for nine years, greeted the pope with Janada Marcus, also a victim of Boko Haram kidnapping, at the end of his general audience on March 8. Both girls saw members of their families murdered by the Boko Haram. Marcus' father was beheaded by a machete in front of her in 2018. Joseph saw her brother killed and cut into pieces in 2019.

"Right before my eyes, they took one of my siblings and killed him. They cut off his head, then his hands, legs, and stomach," she said in a report published by Aid to the Church in Need (ACN).

After escaping the Boko Haram, Joseph and Marcus both received treatment at the Trauma Center of Maiduguri in northeastern Nigeria, a center built with the assistance of ACN.

"Nine years of living in bondage! Nine years of torture! Nine years of agony! We suffered so much at the hands of these heartless, ruthless people. For nine years we saw the shedding of the innocent blood of my fellow Christians, killed by people who do not value life. They murdered without remorse, like it's a normal thing to do," Joseph said of her time in captivity. At the age of 7, she was abducted along with 21 others when the Boko Haram attacked her village.

"They put the Christians in cages, like animals. The first thing they did was forcefully convert us to Islam. They changed my name to Aisha, a Muslim name, and warned us not to pray as Christians or we would be killed," Joseph said.

Marcus, 22, was forced to flee Boko Haram with her family twice before the terrorists attacked them again in the city of Maiduguri. In this attack, Marcus' father was told to either rape her or be killed. "With a machete pointed at my father's forehead, he looked at my mother and at me, but I avoided eye contact because I was ashamed to look him in the face, ashamed of what the men had suggested — it was an abomination!"

Marcus told ACN. "My father put his head down in submission to be killed and answered: 'I cannot sleep with my own flesh and blood, my own daughter, I would rather die than commit this abomination.'" Her father was beheaded, and Marcus continued to suffer at the hands of the Islamic terrorists.

Violent persecution in Nigeria has become a growing concern in recent years, according to many religious freedom organizations, including ACN. Both priests and lay faithful are regularly targeted by Islamic terror groups such as Boko Haram, the Islamic State West Africa Province (ISWAP), and militant Fulani.

In the face of this persecution, Nigeria has the highest Mass attendance of any country in the world. According to recent data compiled by the Center for Applied Research in the Apostolate, 94% of Catholics in Nigeria attend Mass at least weekly.

Marcus shared that the six months that she spent at the trauma center were months of "healing, prayers, and counseling." "After my healing process, I enrolled in college. I am very happy, and I will give it my all to finish my degree and become someone great in society. ... I acquired new skills that have made me so proud of myself," she said. "Emotionally, I have learned to let go of my past; I have learned the art of healing by letting go of my pain.

My faith has strengthened."

"It's hard to forgive and forget, and with all that I have gone through at the hands of Boko Haram I can't even believe that I am the one saying this, but I have forgiven them in my heart, and I pray for the redemption of their souls," Marcus said.

A 20 Year Old Catholic's Journey

DEATH to SELF
WITH BEN LEALI

Why is life so hard?

Why is following God with your heart, soul, and mind not easy?

Ben Leali doesn't pretend to have the answers, but he wants to share his story of growing closer to our Lord Jesus Christ. Ben is 20 years old and was confirmed in the Catholic faith 6 years ago, right here, at St. Peter's! In his new podcast, he tells the story about his journey of becoming the man that Jesus wants him to be. Like all of us, Ben has his own struggles and burdens, but deep inside, he knows that he must die to himself in order to be born anew.

Listen to Ben's first episode on SPOTIFY!

We regret to inform you that the inventor of auto-correct died. His funeral is tomato.

"I cannot deny my faith. It is my everything. It has afforded me so many things. Obviously, God didn't come to save the saints; He came to save us sinners. We've all had things and issues in our lives and we want to be better versions of ourselves. And through focusing on my faith, I have been allowed to do that."

~ Mark Wahlberg, Fr. Joe's Doppelganger ~

Votive candles are expensive and we burn A LOT of them here at St. Peter's. How much do candles cost? Our next shipment will be delivered next week and will cost $8,264.15. That is why we respectfully ask for a $3 donation for each candle, to help cover the cost.

Over the last 3 weeks, we have received donations for less than half of the candles lit. If you are unable to afford a candle, Fr. Joe will be happy to give you the $3. Otherwise, the statues and candles are in view of security cameras and confessions are heard on Friday's from 7:00 pm 'til 7:45 pm and every Saturday from 3:00 pm - 3:45 pm.

Fourth Sunday of Lent LAETARE SUNDAY

Today is Laetare ("Rejoice!") Sunday! It is on this Fourth Sunday of Lent that the Church changes liturgical colors once again to the rose color in honor of the fact that Easter is drawing near. It is a time to rejoice in the coming celebration of the events of our salvation. While we were "dead in our transgression [i.e. sins]" and could do nothing to save ourselves, God took action and sent Jesus His Only begotten Son to die on the cross, rise from the dead, and therefore, offer us salvation. This salvation is a free gift given to us by God. None of us deserves it, but still we are called to accept it in faith. God offers us this free gift but He never will force it upon us. We must choose to embrace the gift of salvation and live accordingly. God's grace makes it possible for us to be forgiven and reunited with Him, but we also must work to maintain that relationship.

DURING LENT ON FRIDAYS WE WALK WITH CHRIST AS HE CARRIES HIS CROSS TO CALVARY.

(STATIONS OF THE CROSS)

The Stations of the Cross or the "Via Dolorosa" (Sorrowful Way), or simply the Way of the Cross has become a very popular devotion among Catholics, which follows the path of Christ from Pilate's praetorium to the tomb of Christ. Join Deacon Mark as he leads us in praying The Stations of the Cross, beginning promptly at 7:00 pm in the Church every Friday during Lent. At the same time, Fr. Joe will be available to hear confessions.

A tipsy man stumbled into a library and loudly demanded a cheeseburger, fries, and a vanilla shake. The librarian was taken aback by the loud disruption and very sternly chastised the intruder, "Sir, this is a library!"

The man immediately leaned over the librarian's desk and quietly whispered, "Sorry, I'd like a cheeseburger, fries and a vanilla shake."

A dog walks across the street, from a construction site, into a local bar where he order's a beer. "Wow," said the bartender, "you should work in the circus!" The dog said, "Why? Are they hiring bricklayers?"
