Live the Liturgy Inspiration of the Week

Even as the disciples saw the empty tomb and the discarded burial cloths, they did not understand what had happened. But they kept faith, trusting that the Lord was at work. Let us keep that same faith when we do not find God where we expect Him to be.

We miss you,

To our absent parishioners. How are you? We have missed you at St. Peter's and hope that you and your loved ones are well. Please know that you have an important place in our parish family and that you are always welcome here!

While we don't know exactly what you're facing, we want you to know that we and the rest of your parish family are here for you. More importantly, Jesus is here for you. He's literally waiting for you in the tabernacle and at every Mass!

Would you prayerfully consider joining us for worship every Sunday? Our parish family would certainly feel more complete with you there!

Christ is risen, Alleluia!

The Resurrection means that nothing can separate us from God's love and presence with us. Spend time this week in prayer contemplating these two truths: The purpose of our lives is to continually GROW in intimate relationship with God; and Jesus' final command to His disciples and us is to "Go and make disciples of all nations." (Matthew 28:19)

Got a call from my sons teacher that he wasn't listening in class. So I said, "Well he doesn't listen at home either but you don't see me calling you now do I?"

The 5 Sacramentals Every Catholic Needs to Live a Holy Life

1) The Brown Scapular

The Brown Scapular is a tangible devotion to Our Lady and a daily commitment to live a holy life. Wearing it is a silent yet profound prayer seeking the maternal protection of Mary against spiritual attacks.

2) Holy Water

Holy Water is powerful for purifying the soul, protecting against evil, and reminding us of our baptismal promises. Its use in the home can sanctify daily life, bringing the sacred into our most familiar spaces!

3) Blessed Candles

Blessed candles carry the light of Christ into our homes, symbolizing His presence and grace. Lighting these candles can even serve as a meditative practice to bring us closer to God!

4) Spiritual Images or Statues

Spiritual images and statues serve as visual reminders of our Catholic faith. They inspire us to live virtuously like the saints and keep our thoughts toward heavenly things.

5) Rosary

The Rosary is a powerful weapon against evil, a meditation on the life of Christ, and a pathway to grace. It strengthens our resolve to live a holy life and draws us closer to Mary and Jesus.

"The Rosary gradually gives us a perfect knowledge of Jesus Christ. It purifies our souls, washing away sin."

Embrace these sacramentals as spiritual armor in the daily battle for holiness!

Gospel Meditation

Encouraged Deeper Understanding of Scripture

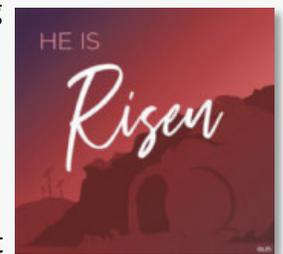

Outside Chicago, there is a small cemetery in the woods behind Mundelein Seminary, where I was a student. One night I was exploring it. I looked up and was shocked to see an imposing seventeen-foot angel towering over me and preparing to blow a trumpet. Adrenaline rushed through me. I gasped and uttered, "Oh my God!" Quickly I realized it was in fact a massive bronze statue. I tried to calm myself down. But it still freaked me out.

As we begin to celebrate Easter today, this image might seem a bit unnerving. But please recall that for the first disciples on the morning of the resurrection, it was precisely that. It wasn't joyful at first, it was terrifying. It wasn't peaceful, it was unsettling. In that Jerusalem cemetery, something otherworldly had happened.

Angels announced that He was no longer dead, but alive. They had blown their trumpets, so to speak, and Jesus had risen.

Soon the disciples' shock in that dark cemetery would turn into joy.

We all have our own places of the dead, too, don't we? Deceased loved ones. Our tired patterns of blame. Relationships stuck in resentment. Indifference to the poor. Lost dreams. Despair about our future. Fear of sickness and death. These are our "cemeteries" where we don't expect much to happen. Today we enter—if we dare—those places with the disciples. See the mighty angel standing there, trumpet ready to blare!

LENTEN ALMSGIVING

If you are giving Alms this Lent and depositing your gift in the Jack Brewer Foundation bank which you received on Ash Wednesday, we kindly ask that you don't delay please return it next time you come to Mass. The faster we return our Lenten Alms, the faster it will be used to educate, feed and clothe needy children here and abroad. Please, don't keep them waiting. Simply hand your bank to an usher upon entering the Church. God Bless You!

What Would Mary Do?

This Easter morning, I am thinking of Mary Magdalene.

I want to know her state of mind as she approached the tomb in the darkness. Was she afraid? Was she thinking clearly? Was she tired? Had grief and trauma robbed her of her sleep the last two nights? What did she intend to do? Anoint Christ's body, yes — but what else? Kiss his hands, trace the markings where the lash had fallen upon his skin? Say goodbye? Weep? Despair?

What were the words she planned to whisper into the cold, empty darkness that morning, as she wept over God's body?

I don't know anything about her state of mind that Easter morning, except that I know she wanted to be with Christ. Perhaps that was all she knew, too. Perhaps she had no other thought, no other desire, than nearness to him. She didn't need to understand everything, and she didn't expect answers — she didn't dare hope for that.

But everything and everyone had fallen apart around her, and in Jesus' presence she knew her heart would be able to rest.

If you have ever been in the midst of a crisis in your life and found yourself pacing the floors of your house when no one else is awake, muttering the words to a prayer you know by heart, you know what Mary Magdalene felt. In those moments, we do not always feel God's presence. Sometimes, when we look for Him, we only see an empty tomb.

When these dark moments come, I pray you will remember the faithfulness of this great saint. Be like Mary Magdalene. Look for Jesus, always. You may not always find him, but he will always find you.

"She ran and went to Simon Peter and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and told them, 'They have taken the Lord from the tomb, and we don't know where they put him.'" — John 20:2

On the Cover ~ "Christ Appearing to Mary Magdala"

Painted around 1645 by Pietro da Cortona, an Italian artist. He uses the classic elements of the baroque style, the deep shadows contrasted with the light, which represents, in this case literally, the Light, that overcomes the darkness. He ensures that the main focus stays on the person of Christ by retaining the sharpest focus and the most color around Him and His garments. Much of the parts in the periphery of the painting are painted in monochrome and are blurred. This draws the eye to the most important part of the painting that is lighter, more colored, and in sharper focus. The only other part which use lighter tones is the upper body and face of Mary Magdala. Which draws the viewers eye to the loving gaze between Mary Magdala and Jesus. Jesus looks at Mary Magdala with love and haste in His eyes. Jesus is pointing His finger in a forward direction, while Mary Magdala has her hands outstretched towards Jesus suggesting that she wants to hold on to Him. Pietro da Cortona paints this gesture deliberately conveying to the viewer that Jesus needs to leave. "He is going before you to Galilee; there you will see Him, as He told you" (Mark 16:7).

All of these stylistic elements are derived from a theology whereby the artist is seeking to represent heavenly and supernatural truths via the visual. In order to do so he does not paint photographically, but deliberately alters the appearances from what is seen so that we infer invisible truths also.
